Tax increases possible

Social Security flaw hurts cash reserves

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some economists claim that roughly half of Social Security's projected deficit could be wiped out by correcting what they see as a flaw in the system's funding formula.

This "flaw," introduced in 1972 when Congress tied benefits to cost-of-living increases, tends to overcompensate future retirees for inflation, the economists claim.

In some cases, they say, retirees might get higher monthly Social Security checks than his or her salary before retirement. Unless corrected, the "flaw" could mean whopping hikes in the Social Security payroll tax.

Both the Congressional Budget Office

and the American Enterprise Institute for Public Policy Research, a private study group, have estimated these benefit increases could eventually take the Social Security payroll tax above 20 per cent.

The current combined employer-employee Social Security payroll tax rate is 11.7 per cent. The tax is paid on the first $15,300 of an individual's annual income. Employers and employees pay equal amounts.

The Ford administration says it will propose legislation in the next few weeks to correct this "flaw." Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., chairman of the House-Senate Economic Committee, says Congress will likely go along with the proposed modification, possibly as a first step toward putting Social Security back on its financial feet.

Here is the problem with that 1972 provision:

Congress voted in that year to allow automatic increases in Social Security benefits to accompany increases in consumer prices.

Few argue with the logic of the concept as it relates to persons now receiving Social Security. It allows their benefits to keep pace with rises in the Consumer Price Index, a measure of the cost of living.

But with regard to future retirees, this provision must be looked at in relation to another part of the funding formula — the one determining what his or her initial benefits will be upon retirement.

These benefits are based on a worker's average monthly earnings. The law includes a table showing exactly what the retiree will receive. The table gears the benefit, generally, to a certain percentage of the workers' average lifetime monthly salary. This percentage is not fixed, but is a sliding scale so that persons with lower wages get a higher percentage of their former earnings.

In any event, the inflation that drives up prices drives up wages.

So the future retiree is already compensated for inflation under the formula because his or her higher monthly wages will automatically result in higher initial benefits.

But the 1972 law adds cost-of-living increases to all benefits, both present and future. So persons now on the Social Security rolls are compensated once for inflation and future retirees are compensated twice.

Reed new Southern State trustee

WILMINGTON — Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes has appointed three new members to the Southern State College board of trustees.

The new appointees are Elmer N. Reed, of Washington C.H., Blair Dennison, of Hillsboro, and Dwight Oberschlake, of Hamersville. Each of the three new trustees will serve a six-year term ending May 12, 1982.

Reed, 619 Fairway Drive, retired two years ago as an industrial engineer at the Armco Steel Corp. Metal Products Division plant in Washington C.H. He was associated with the Armco Steel Corp. for 35 years. He was president of the Washington C.H. Board of Education for five of his eight years as a member.

Dennison is vice president and general manager of the Gross Feible Co. in Hillsboro. He is a past member of the Great Oaks Joint Vocational School District Board of Education, for which he served as finance chairman. Dennison has been a member of the Hillsboro Board of Education for 16 years.

Oberschlake is a member of the board of directors of the Nationwide Insurance Co. and the board of trustees of the Mutual Investing Co. He was president of Landmark, Inc., of Columbus, and has served on the Brown County Board of Education for 16 years. He is presently chairman of the board of directors of the Southern Hills Vocational School District. Oberschlake owns and operates the Friendly Meadows Golf Course in Hamersville.

In welcoming the new trustees, Dr. Lewis C. Miller, president of Southern State College, said, "We are looking forward to working with these community-minded citizens, and to the many contributions they will make to area residents as trustees of Southern State College."

The new trustees fill vacancies left by Hugh M. Rea, of Washington C.H., Philip McConn, of West Union, and Ralph Phillips, of Greenfield, whose two-year terms as board members expired May 12.

Rea, 132 E. Paint St., was one of the nine original trustees of Southern State College. His retirement marked the end of a two-year term as trustee which began with his appointment in May of 1974.

Rea is a retired elementary coordinator for the Washington C.H. School District.

Train derailment cleared

RUSHVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Officials expected the twisted wreckage of 36 derailed ConRail freight cars to be removed from the tracks here sometime today, restoring service between Columbus and Charleston, W. Va.

Ruptured tank cars and empty box cars were strewn in a mangled heap following about 35 miles south of Columbus. Crews used bulldozers and special train equipment in an attempt to move the wreckage and restore freight service in the area.

The cars were part of a 89-car train that derailed here Thursday night, dumping poisonous chemicals into a creek and forming a poisonous cloud that forced 1,500 persons to flee their homes for several hours.

Residents in the tiny Fairfield County communities of Rushville, West Rushville and Bremen had returned to their homes by morning on Friday, after the state Environmental Protection Agency determined toxic amounts of several chemicals had dissipated in the air and in the water of an adjacent creek.

A ConRail spokesman said 36 cars of the 88-car freight train derailed at about 6:30 p.m. in a remote area of the county one mile north of West Rushville. Authorities said three tank cars ruptured and several cars tumbled into nearby Rush Creek.

Bystanders said a visible cloud of poisonous vapor formed over the site of the wreck within hours of the derailment, which occurred on a line known as the western branch of ConRail's Columbus division.

The train crew reported seeing a "sun kink"—an expansion in a rail caused by heat—shortly before the derailment. But a spokesman at ConRail's headquarters in Philadelphia said the cause of the accident was being studied by railroad investigators.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Elizabeth Ray, who says she was on the government payroll as Rep. Wayne Hays' mistress, is telling the FBI she knows of six other women whose federal jobs involved providing sex to congressmen or their constituents, informed sources say.

"She's got documented evidence," a friend of Miss Ray's said late Friday. "She's right. I can't give numbers or specifics...but the girl's telling the truth." The friend, who has worked for three congressmen over several years, declined to be identified.

Hays, 65, a Democrat from Ohio, has admitted having a "personal relationship" with the 33-year-old Miss Ray. But he denies she was on his House Administration Committee payroll at $14,000 a year only to provide him with sex. A U.S. grand jury is investigating.

Sources said Miss Ray has been granted immunity from prosecution and is cooperating with federal authorities.

The sources said the six women named by Miss Ray are present and former employees of the government, most of them on staffs of the House of Representatives. The sources said the six have retained attorneys. The women were not named.

One of the sources said "it's a fair assumption" the six have been questioned by the FBI. The agents want to know whether the six were required to provide sex as part of their jobs.

Such a requirement by a congressman could be a violation of federal laws against misusing public funds. "If he hired her to walk his dog, that would be the same thing," one source said. "Whether or not a congressman has a liaison—there's no federal violation there, and we're not interested in that."

Miss Ray's friend, presently working for an executive agency, said she had not provided sex as part of her congressional employment and that "if it ever came to that, I'd have quit."

She said she has not been questioned by the FBI, but, "If I'm called before the grand jury, I'd have something to say." She refused to be specific.

The grand jury has heard more than an hour of testimony over two days from Paul Panzarella, 25, an assistant clerk on the Administration Committee staff. He was quoted by the Washington Post as saying he lives with Hays' niece, Susan Hays.

The jurors also wanted to hear from Evelyn "Nina" Wilson, the administration committee's office manager. But her lawyer objected, and

No paper Monday

In accordance with a long-standing policy, the Record-Herald will not be published Monday in order that employees may spend the Memorial Day holiday with their families.

Wilder sex scandal hinted in Washington

The matter was discussed behind closed doors with a U.S. district judge.

The grand jury was sent home Friday, and the question of whether Miss Wilson must testify apparently was put over until after the Memorial Day weekend.

"The grand jury is interested in whether Miss Ray did any damn thing at all" by way of work for the committee, said a lawyer connected with the case. Sources said the jurors also were trying to determine whether at least one man who did no work was on the congressional payroll.

Hays, in Ohio to dedicate a road and relax at his farm, said he won't resign from the House or quit his committee post, even though some fellow Democrats reportedly want him out.

Sources said some Democrats are trying to force Hays to resign as chairman of the Administration Committee and of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee.

The Administration Committee handles housekeeping matters and has authority over assignment of office equipment, staff and other prerequisites.

Majority Leader Thomas O'Neill, D-Mass., said there is concern among Democrats about Hays' position on the campaign committee, which funnels $500,000 in private political contributions to House Democrats for use in re-election campaigns.

The sources said a tentative resolution urging Hays' resignation has been drafted for a meeting June 16 of the House Democratic Caucus.

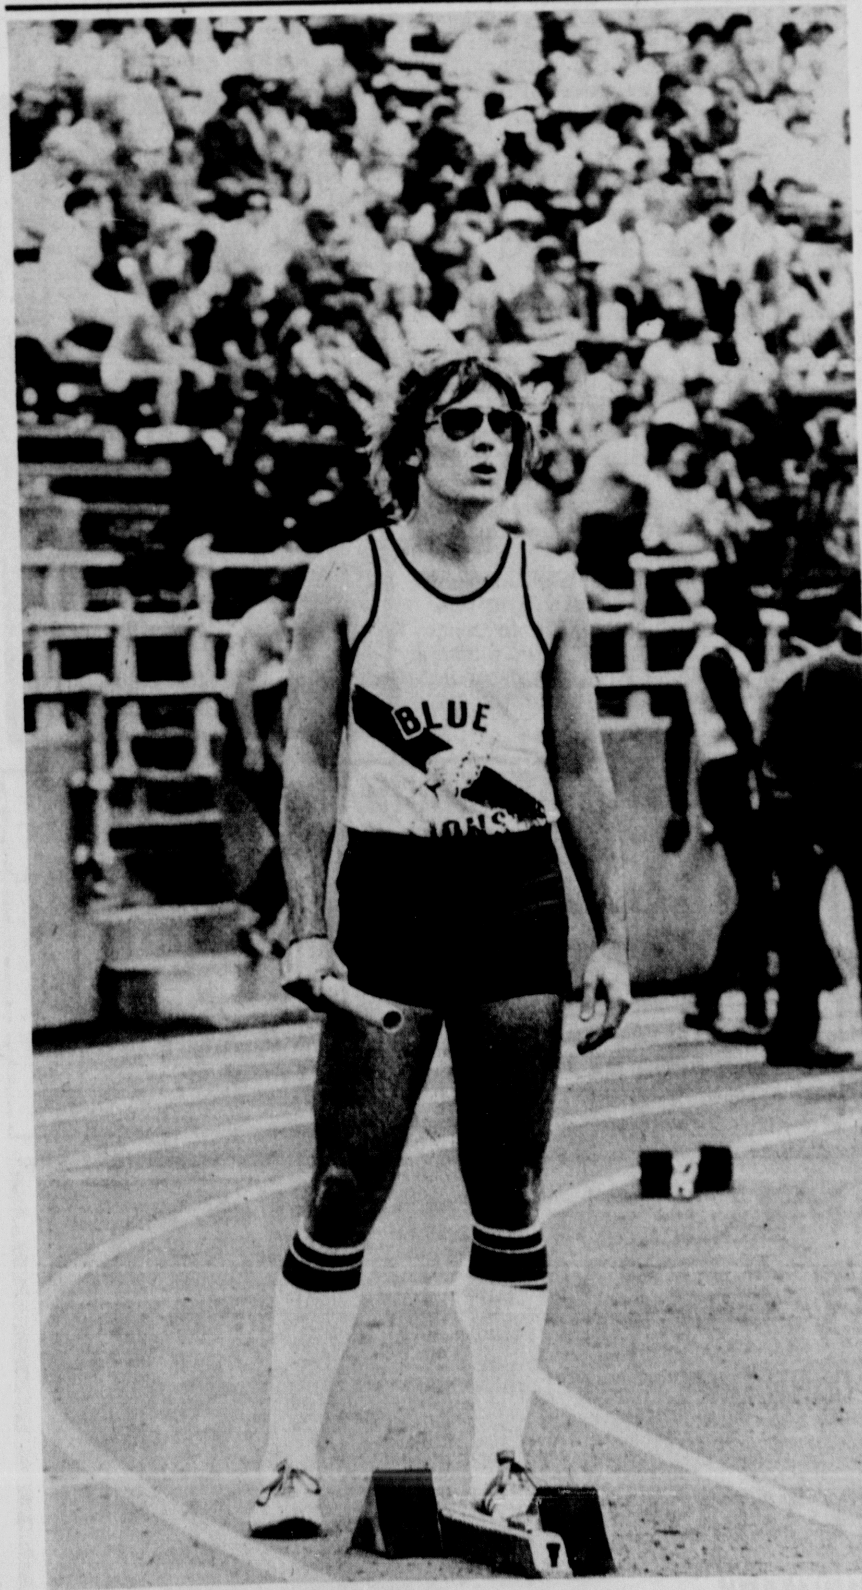

Rep. Romano Mazzoli, D-Ky., who called for Hays' resignation in a speech on the House floor Thursday, said Friday he has been getting overwhelming support from women who work on Capitol Hill.

Female congressional employees, he said, are talented, hard-working women who are "sick and tired of getting the winking treatment, lascivious looks, the attitude that 'all you girls are up here for just one thing.'"

Mazzoli said the immediate response from House colleagues to his speech was "thunderous silence," but that by Friday he had received a few encouraging messages.

Liberty parties hit by protests

ATHENS (AP) — The U.S. 6th Fleet, attempting to give its sailors shore leave at Aegean ports in the past week, has been met with a barrage of anti-American protests which the Greek government said hamper its foreign policy objectives.

A diplomatic source said the anti-U.S. protests were "initiated by a well-organized minority ... and overshadows the many successful visits paid in Greece since October 1975."

He said that of the 22 scheduled visits to Greek ports by 6th Fleet vessels since 1975, only three visits were not completed.

The three unsuccessful visits were one to Rhodes earlier in the week by the carrier America which sparked two days of rioting; one at the resort island of Mykonos by the destroyer Yarnell, and a visit by a 6th Fleet vessel to Khania in Crete that was canceled when demonstrators appeared at the port to protest.

Interior Minister Constantine Stephanopoulos told local authorities Friday "not to interfere with national issues dealt with on a parliamentary level."

The municipal councils of Rhodes, Mykonos and Khania had told the captains of the visiting vessels that their crews would not be welcome.

Stephanopoulos said in a written announcement: "As is obvious to all, foreign policy has serious effects on the fate of the country and the public as a whole. Unfortunately, in the past few days certain local authorities have violated these principles through their decisions. In doing so, they violate the operation of the democratic regime, principles of legality and foreign policy objectives."

The announcement added that such acts "encourage hostile acts against a friend and an ally, showing indifference to the damage they may cause the whole network of our international relations."

The anti-American protests apparently stem from the belief that Washington supported the Greek dictatorship that collapsed in 1974 during the Cyprus crisis. A Greek officered coup in Cyprus resulted in the invasion of the Mediterranean island by Turkish troops, who said they had to protect the Turkish Cypriots there. The troops still occupy the northern part of Cyprus. Many Greeks feel the United States failed to discourage the Turkish invasion.

The Greek government has charged that the Panhellenic Socialist party led by Andreas Papandreu, who is strongly anti-American, and the Moscow-line Communist party were behind the disturbances at Rhodes.

Those riots left 80 injured and scores arrested.

Papandreu called the ships' visits "a provocation at a time of known anti-Americanism," and said his party was not connected with the disturbances.

The diplomatic source said American officials were satisfied with the Greek government's regrets over the incidents. He said it was "too early to say" if attempts would be made to give 6th Fleet sailors shore leave at Greek ports again.

Five traffic mishaps probed

According to Fayette County sheriff's deputies, a Friday morning accident on Palmer Road resulted in damage to nine rods of fence.

Deputies reported Rodney L. Garringer, 18, of Jeffersonville, was eastbound on the Palmer Road when he lost control of his car on a curve located just east of Harmony Road at 7 a.m. Friday.

The car went off the right side, came back across the road and traveled into a ditch on the left side, damaging nine rods of fence on the Eugene Geer farm, 5286 Palmer Road. The car was severely damaged, and Garringer was charged with failure to drive on the right half of the roadway.

A car driven by Kenneth C. Taylor,

19, of Bainbridge, was southbound on Ohio 753-S around 1:15 a.m. Saturday, when it went off the right side of the road and struck a fence post. The accident occurred about a mile south of Miami Trace Road, and the car was severely damaged. Taylor was cited with failing to drive on the right half of the roadway.

A guardrail located along Ohio 41 in Union Township, was reportedly struck and moderately damaged by a hit-skip vehicle around 7 p.m. Friday, sheriff's deputies said.

Washington C.H. police officers investigated two Friday accidents involving slight damage.

A van driven by Darrel R. Ault, 31, of 327 Earl Ave., and a car driven by Eileen D. Ary, 32, of 903 Broadway St., were both eastbound on Market Street, stopped for a red light at the North Street intersection. Attempting to provide more room for an oncoming semi truck, Ault reportedly backed up and struck the Ary vehicle at 1:12 p.m. Friday. Both cars received slight damage.

Proceeding north on Leesburg Avenue, Zelma M. Butcher, 62, of Bloomingburg, attempted to stop for traffic at the Highland Avenue intersection, and ran off the right side of the road when her brakes reportedly failed. Her car was slightly damaged as it struck a "no parking" sign near the sidewalk.

Yacht freed by Panamanians

WASHINGTON (AP) — An American-owned yacht fired upon and seized by Panamanian troops is back in the Panama Canal after six days of unpublicized captivity that caused a flap involving U.S. sovereignty over the waterway.

The government did not make the incident public. But it drew the attention of the White House, apparently because of the potential political implications of the seizure by Panamanian soldiers.

In an unusual move, it was President Ford's chief spokesman who announced that the yacht, the Sea Wolf, was released Friday after its owner, the General Electric Credit Corp., posted a court bond settling a dispute over a repair bill.

The State Department, basing its contention mainly on statements by the yacht's captain, said the vessel was seized illegally in the American-controlled canal last Sunday by Panamanian national guardsmen executing the order of a local court. The court order had been requested by a U.S.-owned firm. The State Department said the Panamanians claimed the incident occurred outside U.S. territory.

The vessel was hit by gunfire from the Panamanian soldiers, but there were no injuries reported aboard the craft, State Department officials said.

Ford is locked in a tight Republican nomination battle with Ronald Reagan and the canal's future control has become a key issue. Ford's press spokesman, Ron Nessen, telephoned The Associated Press on Friday night to report the ship had been freed.

There had been no government announcement about the yacht's seizure. The first public disclosure came earlier Friday from Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., a prominent Reagan supporter and critic of the administration's move to renegotiate the 1903 treaty that gave the United States sovereignty over the canal.

In a Senate speech, Helms called the State Department "shockingly negligent" in handling what "can properly be described as an act of piracy."

"The U.S. State Department is implicated in this act of piracy by failing to make a public announcement of the act, and by thus appearing to tolerate this trespass upon our sovereignty," he added.

State Department press officer John Ordway replied that "strong protests have been made here and by the embassy in Panama" about the incident. He said the department acted despite a request by the owner of the vessel that the government not involve itself.

Ordway said the soldiers fired warning shots across the yacht's bow, then fired into the superstructure when the vessel did not stop. None of the four crewmen was reported injured and none was imprisoned.

Helms said the gunfire came from a former U.S. gunboat that had been "turned over to the republic of Panama as a gesture of friendship."

A U.S.-owned firm, Helicopters de Panama, had obtained an order from a Panamanian court for the seizure, contending that General Electric Credit owed a $52,000 repair bill.

Assault case, vandalism investigated by officers

A man assaulted for giving a woman money and a window-breaking vandalism incident were two of five reports investigated by Washington C.H. police officers.

Eldon E. Newlan, 104 E. Market St., told police officers that after giving a female subject $10 for medicine, she kicked him in the chest and shoulder. The incident occurred on the stairway at 113½ N. Main Street, around 6:50 p.m. Friday. He was treated and released from Fayette County Memorial Hospital.

Approximately seven windows valued at $35 on the west side of Water's Supply Co., Grace Street, were broken with rocks thrown by vandals sometime Thursday.

A large black purse containing $8 in cash and numerous credit cards was reported stolen from a car belonging to Martha Dresbaugh, 703 Washington Ave., as it was parked in front of the First Baptist Church, 301 E. East St., at 5:56 p.m. Thursday.

A bicycle valued at $18, which belonged to Louise's Second Hand Store, 319 W. Temple St., was reported stolen from the front of the building sometime Wednesday night.

The Fayette County Sheriff's Department received reports of a lawn mower theft and a dog bite Friday.

A lawn mower belonging to Donald Hanawalt, 118 Cook-Yankee Road, was reportedly stolen from his unlocked garage sometime between 12 and 3:30 p.m. Friday.

Carmen Uhl, 2, of Wilmington, was reportedly bitten by a dog in the backyard of the Richard Henry residence, 2995 Old Springfield Road, at 10:45 a.m. Friday. She was treated and released from Fayette County Memorial Hospital.

Property tax relief bill has some story sessions

The Ohio Legislature has recessed until June 9, but committees continue to meet on several important bills, according to State Representative Bob McEwen.

The House-Senate conference committee on property tax relief (HB 920) has had some stormy sessions. There remain substantial and persistent differences between the House and Senate versions of House Bill 920, McEwen said.

Both chambers want a system of tax credits to replace tax millage rollback as a way to offset tax increases due to inflation. However, the House made the credits retroactive to 1971, and the Senate wanted to wait until 1978. A compromise makes them effective in 1976.

Another compromise reduces tangible personal property tax levels over a period of years to 35 per cent. This tax primarily affects businesses and is levied on inventories, plants and equipment, and office furnishings. The 35 per cent level of market value would be on par with the uniform 35 per cent real property assessment.

Other than these two changes the committee is using the Senate version of House Bill 920. An important difference remains in how property taxes are to be administered. The House sought to replace the present Board of Tax Appeals (BTA) with a Court of Tax Appeals, while the Senate kept the BTA as an appeals body, but put rule making authority in a new department of Tax Equalization.

"The compromise agreements are shaky and may fall apart. We will know this week. If that happens, it is likely the first conference committee will be dissolved and a new one formed next week," McEwen noted.

Auto, sawdust fires doused

A discarded cigarette butt was the probable cause in one of two fires extinguished by Washington C.H. firemen.

A fire in an auto belonging to Michael L. Young, 1503 N. North St., was extinguished at 1:20 a.m. Saturday by firemen. The car had been parked at 122 S. Fayette Street, and fireman believe the $150 estimated damage was a result of a discarded cigarette butt igniting the automobile.

A sawdust pit fire at 800 Lakeview Avenue was extinguished at 2:53 p.m. Friday by Washington C.H. firemen. The pit is owned by the Coffman Stair Co., 306 Highland Ave., firemen said the fire may have been set intentionally.

A property transfer decision looms for members of the Fayette County Board of Education at the regular semi-monthly meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the county offices on E. Court Street.

Superintendent Guy M. Foster said the board will decide whether or not to object to the transfer of 23 acres of annexed land located near the Washington C.H. Industrial Park to the Washington C.H. School District.

Board members will also hear from representatives of the Miami Trace Teachers Association, approve a list of graduating seniors, extend a cooperative agreement with Clinton County for speech and hearing services and consider several personnel matters including the issuance of supplemental contracts.

Mankind's longer road

Sometimes the long perspective of archaeology offers welcome relief from the relentless present. If a new window has just been opened onto the distant past, all the better for the purpose of forgetting day to day concerns.

This is the case just now - and to a remarkable degree. For the discovery of a very ancient Bronze Age culture at Ban Chiang in northeastern Thailand "challenges all the assumptions that have long been held about the development of our modern cultures." The words are those of Dr. Froelich Rainey, director of the University of Pennsylvania's University Museum, whose scientists worked with Thai colleagues in excavating the site.

As a result of their findings it now appears that when the so-called "cradle of civilization" in the Tigris-Euphrates valley was just getting under way about 3000 B.C. the Ban Chiang culture had already been flourishing for hundreds of years, perhaps much longer.

Evidence of use of metal alloys has been traced to 3600 B.C. Scientists believe the culture may have begun developing 1,500 to 2,000 years before that.

There are many other sites in the area. It will be interesting to follow the progress of excavations in the years ahead. Meanwhile, it seems that man has traveled a longer road than had been thought. This may help one to be a bit more philosophical about the vagaries of life these thousands of years later.

Plain old pencils OK for government

WASHINGTON (AP) - If the No. 2 pencil is good enough for the American public, it should be good enough for the massive federal bureaucracy, the government has decided.

Pens, pencils and many other items may become relics of the past under a new federal procurement policy.

While the new policy won't result in soldiers reporting for duty in street clothes, it may put an end to such things as pencils and pens stamped "Property of the U.S. Government."

The government's new policy will be to purchase commercial, "off-the-shelf" products, whenever feasible, instead of products designed to meet sometimes complicated federal specifications, the Office of Federal Procurement Policy announced Wednesday.

Daniel S. Wilson, head of a committee that will put the policy into effect, said it should result in significant savings in procurement costs, which are expected to total $66 billion in fiscal 1976.

Using commercially available electronic equipment, for example, could save up to $80 million annually, the procurement office said.

In addition to reducing the cost of some merchandise, the policy should also cut the time and expense of developing government specifications, permit smaller inventories and spare government warehouse operations, it said in a report.

While government specifications are necessary in some instances to enable the government to carry out a particular function, sometimes they "merely add embellishments to commercial products" that serve little useful purpose, it added.

The government also will use commercial distribution channels, wherever possible, to distribute the goods through its bureaucracy.

However, Wilson indicated it may take years to fully implement the policy. New purchasing procedures must be devised, and such effects as the impact on small business need further study, he said.

Right now it's not even known exactly how much the government buys commercially, he admitted.

But eventually, Wilson said, an ordinary "No. 2" pencil may replace the specially branded government pencil now used in nearly every U.S. government office.

The word "maverick," used to describe independent personalities and stray cattle, comes from the name of Samuel Augustus Maverick, Texas pioneer and politician noted for his "rugged individualism."

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Personal letter
relieves reader

DEAR ABBY: Around this time last year I wrote to you telling you that I was a very unhappy 12-year-old adopted, diabetic girl whose parents and teachers were always on my back. You wrote back with lots of suggestions and told me to try to see things their way.

I didn't believe a thing you wrote, and I got into big trouble at school. It got harder and harder for me to live with myself anymore, so I went to talk to my best friend's mother, and she helped me see that everything you wrote to me was 100 per cent true. Then I read your letter over and over again, and after a while it sunk in.

I changed myself just in time to save my reputation and get back with all my friends, and, Abby, your letter was the cause of it all. Thank you! I couldn't have done it without you. Now I'm a better person and can talk to my parents, which I couldn't do last year. Abby, please put this in your column because I'm sure a lot of teenagers don't realize that you wrote personal answers to those who send stamped, addressed envelopes.

All my love,
M.L. IN BARSTOW, CALIF.
DEAR M.: I am pleased to know that my letter helped you to get it all together, but you deserve more credit than I do. I only offered suggestions. YOU followed through. God bless you, honey.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I recently moved into a furnished apartment. We have no children, but we have two small dogs that we love very much.

At first when we went out, we left the dogs alone in the apartment, and they ripped up everything they could get their little paws on. They simply ruined the furniture and rugs!

After we saw the damage our dogs had done, we took to locking them up in the bathroom, but, Abby, this upsets them so much, it just breaks my heart. I can't blame them. I know I wouldn't want to be locked in a tiny bathroom for five hours, would you?

Is there any other solution? We don't have anyone who can watch the dogs when we go out. Please suggest something.

LOVES MY DOGS

DEAR ABBY: If you can't train your dogs to refrain from tearing up their surroundings when left alone, rather than submit them to cruel and unusual confinement, take them with you or find them another home. Dogs have rights, too.

DEAR ABBY: I am not keen on your approving traditional white weddings for non-virgin brides just because it "probably was their heart's desire."

When I hurriedly arranged a church wedding for my 18-year-old daughter who had just confessed that she was three-months pregnant, I told her that if she insisted on wearing a veil, I would not attend her wedding.

She wore the white wedding gown, carried a bridal bouquet and had her hair done up with flowers and ribbons instead of a veil.

I am not sure how many knew that she was pregnant at her wedding but when the baby arrived six months later no remarks were made.

RICHMOND MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Under the circumstances, I imagine her would have disapproved of her wearing the white gown. For my part, she could have worn the veil as well.

DEAR ABBY: I am a secretary to a fine family man. About once a week, my boss invites me to have lunch with him downtown. I find it enjoyable, but I understand there has been some talk about it around the office. In fact, I hear that his wife has been asking questions about me.

I wish you'd tell me just what two people could do between 12 and 1 in a crowded restaurant.

MS UNDERSTOOD

DEAR MS.: They could make plans to meet after 5, where it's not so crowded.

Today is Saturday, May 29, the 150th day of 1976. There are 216 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1453, the capital of the Byzantine Empire, Constantinople, was captured by the Turks. The date is listed by some historians as the end of the Middle Ages.

On this date:

In 1736, the American patriot, Patrick Henry, was born in Hanover County, Va.

In 1790, Rhode Island ratified the U.S. Constitution, completing approval by all of the 13 original colonies.

In 1943, the Americans defeated the Japanese in the World War II Battle of Attu in the Aleutian Islands off Alaska.

Today's birthdays: Dancer and choreographer Pearl Lang is 54. Comedienne Beatrice Lillie is 78.

State show county production shift

By JOHN P. GRUBER
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

The annual Ohio Agricultural Statistics publication arrived this week from the Ohio Crop Reporting Service. The publication lists crop and livestock production figures for 1975.

1975 crop production statistics showed a slight shift from corn to soybeans. The 1975 acreage of corn for grain was 75,200 down from 84,200 in 1974. Soybean acreage increased to 74,800 in 1975 up from 69,200 in 1974. That production shift however is experiencing a big reversal in 1976.

Average yields for Fayette County were up considerably with corn averaging 89.4 bushel per acre. My earlier guess was that it would be in the 90 - 95 bushel range. Average Soybean yield in 1975 was 32.3 bushel for the county. Statewide average yields were 92.0 bushels per acre for corn and 32.5 bushels for soybeans.

Wheat acreage harvested last year was up 2,000 acres to 31,200 acres with an average yield of 40.2 bushels per acre. A look around the county would lead one to believe that wheat acreage is up this year, but with the dry weather yield per acre no doubt will be lower.

THE DECLINE in livestock numbers in Fayette County is continuing according to the Crop Reporting Service statistics. Number of cattle and calves on Fayette County farms as of January 1, 1976 dropped to 31,000 head. Year earlier figures were 33,900.

The December 1, 1975 hog and pig inventory showed a 10,000 head decrease in hog numbers in Fayette County with 63,700 hogs and pigs on farms. That ranks Fayette County sixth in hog numbers in Ohio. It has been too many years since that December 1 inventory showed over 100,000 hogs and pigs in Fayette County.

Stock sheep on farms on January 1 were listed at 6,900 head.

CUTWORMS are working on corn fields in several Ohio counties - Fayette County included. Better be checking fields even if insecticides were used at planting time. Some of them are not controlling cutworms. Had a call this week from northern part of the county reporting severe damage, and have heard reports of cutworms damaging several fields in Madison County.

There are several materials that can be applied for cutworm control. There listed in Extension Bulletin 545 "Insect Pests of Field Crops". Keep in mind that materials need to be applied according to label directions to get control.

ALFALFA weevil have been doing some damage in alfalfa fields. At this time of year the most economical control appears to be the mowing machine. Harvest the field now and watch the stubble for damage to the regrowth. In some fields reports are that weevil larvae have spun a cocoon and are in pre-pupal or pupal stage. Stubble spray may not be needed in these fields. Others the larvae may still be working. Check regrowth carefully to determine need for stubble spray program.

JUNE 1 is the deadline for sign up in the 1976 Corn and Soybean Clubs. Entry forms and rules are available at the Extension Office.

A CORN tillage tour has been set for Wednesday afternoon June 9, starting at 1:00 p.m. out Ohio 41, south of Jeffersonville across from Kreiger Equipment Co. The four stops on the tillage tour will be locations of the tillage demonstration plots put out in cooperation with Kreiger Equipment, Richard Davidson, Marvin and Roger Stockwell, and C.A. Bock.

Tillage practices vary from zero till to ridge planting. In all there are 21 plots at the four locations. The plots also include conventional tillage and minimum or reduced tillage systems following corn, soybeans, and or sod.

The purpose of the demonstration plots and the tour is to provide corn producers with side-by-side comparisons of the various tillage systems.

Farm co-ops take grain selling step

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of farmer-owned cooperatives may have taken a key step toward selling grain to the Soviet Union in what could be at least a small breakthrough in a business dominated by so called "international" trading companies, according to grain industry sources.

The sale was said to involve at least one major regional cooperative FARMAR-CO, Hutchinson, Kan., and possibly several others. No quantity or kind of grain was mentioned by the sources. A spokesman for FARMAR-CO said late Monday there would be "no statement made at this time."

However, the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, which represents co-ops here, has scheduled a news conference Wednesday "to talk about possible grain sales" to the Soviet Union, a spokesman said. No further details were available from the council or the Agriculture Department.

One source said several co-op representatives, including at least one council official, are in Moscow now. The source said the transaction may involve an "understanding" for future sales rather than a firm, immediate deal. The report of the move by the cooperatives came as a Soviet trade delegation met here Monday with Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Richard E. Bell and other U.S. officials.

The meeting, described as routine, was called in accordance with a long term U.S.-Soviet grain agreement signed last fall. Under it, semi-annual "consultation" meetings are to be held to discuss the grain situation in both countries.

Department officials said the session with the Russians, led by Boris S. Gordeyev, deputy foreign trade minister, will continue today. No details of Monday's meeting were disclosed.

Warranty changes hurt buyer

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you used merchandise before returning it for a cash refund because it was defective, the Federal Trade Commission is proposing that the manufacturer have the right to charge you for the use.

In a move that could diminish the value of so-called full warranties, the commission today proposed allowing manufacturers to deduct a use charge from any refunds claimed by customers who buy defective products.

Hearings on the proposal will begin in late summer. The proposal attempts "to balance in an equitable manner the consumer's interest in enforcing his rights under the full warranty interest of the marketplace in preventing any unjust enrichment of a consumer," according to a staff recommendation.

The rule would apply only to full, rather than limited, warranties and only when the customer actually has enjoyed some use of the product before it goes bad. It would not affect cases where the seller decides to replace the product, rather than refund the purchase price.

Under terms of a new federal statute, cash refunds under full warranties must now amount to the full purchase price, regardless of interim use. However, the law entitles the FTC to make the change it is now proposing.

The change would not be mandatory and manufacturers could continue to offer a full price refund if they choose. But if they wanted, they could deduct from that refund the percentage of actual product use against the "useful life" of the item.

Ohio Perspective

Jackson campaign still alive

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — His active campaigning has stopped. But Sen. Henry M. "Scoop" Jackson's presidential campaign is still alive, and he will appear on Ohio's June 8 Democratic primary ballot.

Jackson made few appearances in Ohio even before dropping from the active campaign. A fund-raising dinner in Lancaster was scheduled the day he dropped from the race, a victim of the early primaries. Instead of campaigning in Ohio, Jackson was in his native Washington, announcing his withdrawal.

His Ohio campaign manager, Auditor

Thomas E. Ferguson, says that Jackson is still in the race and that he hopes Jackson will return to Ohio before election day.

Jackson, 63, is a veteran politician. He was first elected to Congress in 1940 and he has been a senator from the State of Washington since 1952. He was an unsuccessful presidential candidate in 1972.

On the domestic front, Jackson has proposed a $20 billion public works project to reduce unemployment, "certainly by 1 per cent or more." In a March 30 interview with the New York Times, Jackson said the $20 billion

"would embrace many areas, but specifically schools, hospitals, water quality treatment plants.... I'd have the federal government take over the ownership of the railroad beds and rebuild those railroad beds and lease them back...."

He says the $20 billion would provide "the emergency stimulation that's needed to restore confidence...." That would be followed by a second phase "centered around a national energy mobilization board which, over a period of 15 years, would be the main source of economic growth."

Jackson also has proposed a six-point plan that he says would "save American cities."

The plan includes federal takeover of funding of the welfare system; national health insurance for all citizens; increasing the federal share of aid to education from 7 per cent to one-third; setting a goal in the building industry of 2.6 million new dwelling units per year; providing federal insurance of municipal bonds and implementing a federal program aimed at full employment.

In an April interview, Jackson said it was correct to say that he sees a larger role for the federal government in a Jackson administration.

"I don't buy the argument that because something is big, it's bad," he said. "I think the key here is, how do you handle very large programs in the more humane manner, that is, designed in such a way that there are action-forcing procedures in which the local citizens could be involved."

On taxes, Jackson has proposed a $3.4 billion plan to ease the tax burden on the elderly. It would include a property tax ceiling for the elderly, a hike from $2,760 to $4,800 in the amount that can be earned yearly without losing Social Security benefits, and an income tax credit for the elderly.

In energy policy, Jackson has proposed a National Energy Mobilization Board to use an estimated $2 billion annual income from offshore oil leases to underwrite private efforts to develop other energy sources. He favors continued federal controls on domestic oil and gas prices.

On school busing, Jackson advocates federal legislation creating special three-judge courts to determine the effect busing would have on the quality of education and to demonstrate first that other desegregation efforts would not be effective.

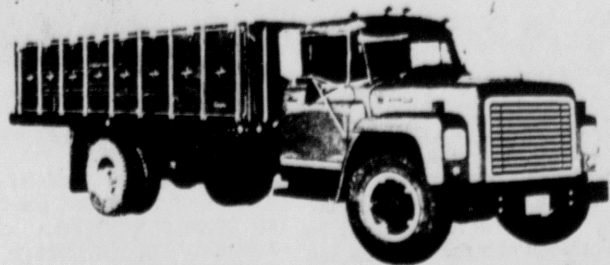

The bill would limit busing orders to remedying specific instances of segregation. In 1972 Jackson supported a constitutional amendment to ban busing.

Jackson says he personally opposes abortion except where the mother's life or health is threatened. He also opposes a constitutional amendment to prohibit abortion but believes the states should have the power to enact legislation regulating abortion.

In foreign affairs, Jackson has been a critic of détente with the Soviet Union.

CLEANABILITY CODE

A cleanliness code-which will give the consumer information as to the proper cleaning method appropriate for a particular type of fabric - may be found on the tag under the seat cushion - or the furniture salesman should be able to give this information.

The code has been endorsed by such national furniture cleaning organizations as Duraclean International and Service Master and should be called to their attention when professional cleaning is required.

CODE METHOD

W - Use only the foam from a WATER-based cleaning agent. Put 2 tablespoons of a mild dishwashing detergent such as Ivory Liquid in a blender with 1/2 cup of water or mix in a bowl with an egg beater to achieve maximum foam. Apply this dry foam with a sponge or soft bristle brush over a larger area than that which has been soiled to avoid leaving rings. Professional cleaning is recommended.

S - Use a mild, water-free SOLVENT dry cleaning product such as energine, Carbona or Renuzit. Follow the instructions carefully. Keep the room well ventilated. Clean as large an area as possible around the soiled section to avoid leaving rings. Do not use any products containing carbon tetrachloride as it is highly toxic.

WS - EITHER of the above methods can be used.

X - NEITHER of the above methods should be used. A fabric coded X should only be vacuumed or brushed lightly to remove soil. Do not use liquid cleaning agents of any type.

ROUTINE MAINTENANCE

Sensible care of your furniture fabrics will help make your furniture look better and last longer.

KIRKPATRICK FUNERAL HOME

Dear friends,

Memorial Day came into being on May 5, 1868, by order of Gen. John Alexander, Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic. The original purpose was not a military observance, but "to institute a simple act of remembrance, respect, and love". The order advised simply "strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late rebellion".

Sincerely,

Richard Kirkpatrick

Letters from readers of R-H

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

What is happening to our town? Has our city government forgotten who they are supposed to be working for?

When they are running for office, some of our Council members say they are not for a city income tax unless it is voted on by the people. You and I both know the fallacy of that statement. Why is it once people get in office, they are prone to stop 'working' for the people and start 'thinking' for them?

No group of seven people, no matter how sincere they are, can think for 13,000 people. No one thinks alike, I realize that. But certainly the voice of the majority of the people should be heeded.

I would like to suggest to Council that the tax-payers are the most important people in any city. Tax-payers are not dependant on Council, Council is or should be dependant on them. Council is not doing the taxpayers a favor, per se.

Instead, the electors did them a favor, or service, when they trusted them enough to elect them to the single most important job in local government today. Why can't Council understand this? We are not out-siders. We are the voice of the city.

I should qualify that by saying we should be the voice of the City. What has happened to our voice? We are not a cold statistic. We are flesh and blood human beings, with feelings and emotions. Emotions which are now running very high. No one likes to be ignored.

Our City Council was voted in to represent us. They are supposed to listen to our needs and try to fill those needs accordingly. By virtue of the fact that we pay their salaries, we certainly deserve more courteous and attentive treatment than we are getting.

Here are a few things which I believe are causing the 'credibility gap' between Council and the tax-payers:

—The increase in sewer rates. How many of you buy a new car or appliance and pay for it for a year, perhaps two, before you use it?

—The imposition of the city income tax. A tax that has been voted down by the people every time it has appeared on the ballot. Another example of how Council listens to the tax-payers. I wonder how many people are not against the city tax, but simply do not want to give Council any more of their money to play around with?

—The turning off of our city street lights, as an economy measure. Really? Or a show of 'power'? If the city is as broke as Council would have us believe, where is the money going to come from for Council's raise?

—Written notice before addressing Council. Council meetings are the only form of communication left between Council and tax-payers. They wouldn't listen to the voice of the people at the polls. I'm not really surprised at this latest tact taken by Council. Are you?

On top of all these things, now we're told our real estate taxes are going to raise nearly 100 per cent. Add this to the increase in the cost of living: utilities, water, phone, home insurance. Where will it stop? I can assure you the working man's pay has not gone up 100 per cent. Neither has the people who are on fixed incomes. They have to pay their own insurance, too.

In the paper lately have been several stories about allegedly fraudulently signed petitions. Can any of you married people honestly say you have never signed you husbands or wives names to anything? It is heart-wrenching to see the city divided over this matter.

We all know what these people have really been guilty of, if they have been guilty of anything.

They dared oppose unpopular legislation. Legislation the majority of you people turned down at the last election.

I wonder if Council would have gone this far if Bill Stolzenburg, staunch Council critic, had not been involved in carrying those petitions?

Personally, I believe it is time for everyone to stand up and exercise their right in freedom of speech. Go to Council meeting, make yourself heard. If they won't listen, they will surely hear you at the polls when it comes time for re-election.

Taxation without representation was a cause for revolution many years ago. It was a rallying cry heard throughout the nation. Perhaps that is what needs to be done now. Not revolution, but a rallying together for a common cause.

Thomas Jefferson said that our liberty can never be safe except in the hands of the people themselves.

More than a difference of opinion is at stake here. Our very liberty is in jeopardy.

Get involved, people. Carry on with the banner of freedom that has been the safeguard and mainstay of the United States of America for nearly two hundred years. You may not have another chance.

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

We, the Central Ohio Chapter-March of Dimes, wish to offer our sincere thanks for the interest and cooperation given Super Walk '76. The coverage given throughout the Super Walk campaign is very much appreciated.

We would also like to take this opportunity to extend thanks to all those persons who contributed to the Super Walk, the many volunteers, merchants and especially those who walked.

It is only through public support like that given to Super Walk '76 that the fight against birth defects can continue. The total of nearly $3,500 has been pledged to the 150 Super Walk entrants will help fund basic and clinical research, medical services, public and professional health education and starter grants that are so vital in this fight.

Thank you once again for the tremendous effort and assistance given to make Super Walk '76 a success.

Don't let good friends become strangers. Visit with them as often as you like. By phone. A 10-minute call to any state outside Ohio, except Alaska or Hawaii, costs just $2.57 or less, plus tax. Just dial direct, without operator assistance, after 5 P.M. Prices are lower after 11 P.M. and on weekends. It costs so little to say so much.

$2.57 or less. Why not visit a faraway friend, tonight. By phone.

Dial-direct rates apply on all interstate calls (excluding Alaska) completed from a residence or business phone without operator assistance. They also apply on calls placed with an operator from a residence or business phone where dial-direct facilities are not available. For dial-direct rates to Hawaii, check your operator. Dial-direct rates do not apply to person-to-person, coin, hotel-guest, credit card or collect calls, or to calls charged to another number, because an operator must assist on such calls.

Resets school record

Blue Lion relay team drops from state meet

By PHIL LEWIS

COLUMBUS — The Washington C.H. Blue Lion half-mile relay team knocked three-tenths of a second off their previous best and school record time of 1:33.7 Friday in the preliminaries of the state track meet at Ohio Stadium.

Mark Forsythe, Greg Greene, Ed DeWees and Joe Cox turned in a 1:33.4, but that effort was only good for 14th in the 16-team field.

The best eight times qualified for Saturday's class AA finals. Columbus Mifflin won the Blue Lions' heat in a class AA, record breaking time of 1:28.8. Mifflin is the defending class AA state champion.

Forsythe, DeWees, Cox and Greene went into the meet with the slowest (1:33.9) district qualifying time. They knocked a half second off that mark and topped two teams with faster qualifying times.

Coach Rick Crooks switched his Blue Lion relay team to the "acceleration zone" exchange for the state meet. This gives the baton-receiving runner a better start on exchanges. The Blue Lion team normally took exchanges before the runner could build to his top speed.

"We didn't use it in the district, but a few of the teams did," Crooks said. In state competition, the normal 22-yard exchange area is lengthened to 33 yards.

The Blue Lions worked on the new technique the previous week, but "it was not enough time," anchorman Joe Cox said.

Crooks figured the Blue Lion relay team stood little chance in the meet unless the "acceleration zone" exchange was used.

Crooks was in the stands along with 20,000 track and field fans Friday timing his team's splits. Forsythe, the leadoff man, covered his 220-yard leg in :23.7; DeWees was clocked in 24.4; Greene had a :23.3; and Cox anchored in 22-seconds flat.

Warren Yamerick of Circleville failed to qualify in the 100-yard dash Friday. He finished seventh in his eight-man heat with a :10.3 clocking. The heat was won in :9.9. Yamerick was also competing in the 220.

Jeff Phillips, the defending class AAA sprint champion who won the district in the 100-yard dash in which Miami Trace's Greg Cobb competed in, won his heat Friday in :9.4, tying the state record held by Bob Lawson of Toledo Libbey since 1972.

Unio's Bob Matson failed to place in the class AA discus competition. Matson was also competing in the shot put.

HALFWAY THERE — Washington Senior High School sprinter Greg Greene (right) takes an exchange from teammate Ed DeWees in Friday's 69th Boys State Track and Field Championships at Ohio Stadium in Columbus.

Mark Forsythe started the half-mile relay team and handed to DeWees. Greene would run 220 yards and then hand to anchorman Joe Cox. The Blue Lion team finished 14th in the competition.

Morgan back; Dodgers lose

AP Sports Writer

Joe Morgan spent a bad week out of the Cincinnati Reds' lineup—and made the Los Angeles Dodgers pay for it.

Back in action despite lingering back spasms, Morgan hurt the Dodgers with a three-run homer as the Reds took a 9-0 decision Friday night in the opener of their big four-game series at Riverfront Stadium.

"You can't sit around on this club, they'll drive you crazy," said Morgan. "In Los Angeles, I let a couple of balls go through my legs. The next day Pete Rose and Tony Perez put a waste basket in front of my locker."

The Dodgers are the team that Morgan loves to hate—and loves to hit as well.

"It's more fun to play the Los Angeles Dodgers," says Cincinnati's Most Valuable Player. "Some games are like a World Series."

Friday night's game was a virtual World Series for rookie Pat Zachry, too. He tamed the Dodgers on five hits. "I had so much adrenalin I had to calm myself down," said Zachry. "The energy was there. It was just a matter of whether the ability was."

Elsewhere in the National League, the Philadelphia Phillies beat the Montreal Expos 10-3; the St. Louis Cardinals blanked the New York Mets 6-0 and the San Francisco Giants stopped the San Diego Padres 5-0. Two games were rained out—Pittsburgh at Chicago and Houston at Atlanta.

George Foster also slammed a three-run homer as Cincinnati pounded Don Sutton and Mike Marshall for 12 hits. The victory moved the Reds within one game of the Dodgers in the National League West.

Phillies 10, Expos 3

Dave Cash and Mike Schmidt each drove in two runs and Ron Reed pitched five innings of effective relief as Philadelphia beat Montreal for its 14th victory in 17 games. Reed came in with two on in the fifth, retired three batters in a row and went on to earn his third victory by allowing two hits, striking out one and walking none.

Cardinals 6, Mets 0

Willie Crawford's grand slam and a two-run homer by Bake McBride backed a three-hit performance by John Curtis and powered St. Louis over New York. Curtis, who pitched a one-hitter against San Diego in 1974, hurled a hitless ball until Dave Kingman stroked a ground single to left leading off the seventh. Two outs later, Roy Staiger lined a single to left but Curtis protected his shutout by getting Mike Phillips to ground to first base.

Giants 5, Padres 0

John Montefusco hurled a three-hitter to pitch San Francisco over San Diego. Two singles by Tito Fuentes and one by Willie Davis were the only three hits off the 26-year old San Francisco pitcher, who improved his record to 6-3. Only three Padres reached second base.

A's 11, White Sox 0

Phil Garner, Sal Bando, Billy Williams and Ken McMullen hit home runs to back Stan Bahnsen's six-hit pitching and lead the A's over the White Sox.

Orioles 4, Red Sox 1

Wayne Garland turned in a nine-hitter in a rare start against the Red Sox, getting a run in the opening inning and three more in the fifth.

Six-pound largemouth pulled from Millers

Marvin McRobie continued to exhibit his fishing skills this week at Millers Lake.

McRobie, who caught a handsome string of bass two weeks ago, hauled in six more largemouths early this week.

One of the fish went 6½ pounds and the smallest was three pounds. McRobie was again using black rubber night-crawlers.

Green, Maltbie ponder 'monster'

DUBLIN, Ohio (AP) — Hubert Green and Roger Maltbie, the leaders through two rounds of Jack Nicklaus' new creation, the $200,000 Memorial Golf Tournament, have diametrically opposed views on the way to play the murderously-tough Muirfield Village layout.

"Sure I have a strategy," said the chipper Maltbie, the 1975 rookie of the year.

"Play it chicken. Just try to keep it on the short grass."

No way, said Hubert.

"Attack it," he said. "This course is gonna get you sooner or later. You might as well get going after it instead of laying back."

Green's mod approach has produced 13 birdies—five of them in Friday's second round—through the first 36 holes of this event that seems to be destined to become one of golf's classics. His leading 141 total, however, is only three under par.

Maltbie has a more conservative total of nine birdies and seven bogeys. He's just one off the pace at 142 after a second-round 71.

Bank slates registration for Golden Buckeye cards

Glenn R. Hemsworth, president of the First National Bank of Washington C.H., today invited all Washington C.H. area residents, age 65 years or older, to register for free Golden Buckeye cards at any of the bank's three local offices.

As a registration center for the state program, the First National Bank will process all applications made at the bank, for both customers and non-customers, Hemsworth said.

"While the program is voluntary," Hemsworth said, "eligible residents with a Golden Buckeye card can take advantage of a growing list of discounts with retailers and special service organizations, including discounts at Ohio's recreational parks."

The First National Bank will also provide copies of "Survey of Status and Needs," which has been designed to plan future services for Ohio's citizens aged 65 and older.

As an affiliate of the BancOhio Corp., the First National Bank noted that all 213 offices of BancOhio affiliates are serving as registration centers for Golden Buckeye cards.

The Golden Buckeye card program is funded through the federal Comprehensive Employment Training Act.

"We remind the customers of the First National Bank to take advantage of the free service charge features on checking accounts designed for senior citizens," Hemsworth said.

Gypsy Moth traps set by state

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A series of traps designed to attract the destructive gypsy moth will be placed throughout the state in an effort to control an agricultural pest.

Harold L. Porter, chief of the state agriculture department's division of plant industry, said 10,000 traps will be placed around campgrounds, parks and trailer courts, where chance of infestation is high. He said the program is an ongoing effort to eliminate infestation of the moth, which can be transported across long distances on trailer hitches, cars and camping equipment.

The bait for the traps is a synthetic material designed to attract and capture the adult male gypsy moth.

Tax increases possible

Social Security flaw hurts cash reserves

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some economists claim that roughly half of Social Security's projected deficit could be wiped out by correcting what they see as a flaw in the system's funding formula.

This "flaw," introduced in 1972 when Congress tied benefits to cost-of-living increases, tends to overcompensate future retirees for inflation, the economists claim.

In some cases, they say, retirees might get higher monthly Social Security checks than his or her salary before retirement. Unless corrected, the "flaw" could mean whopping hikes in the Social Security payroll tax.

Both the Congressional Budget Office

and the American Enterprise Institute for Public Policy Research, a private study group, have estimated these benefit increases could eventually take the Social Security payroll tax above 20 per cent.

The current combined employer-employee Social Security payroll tax rate is 11.7 per cent. The tax is paid on the first $15,300 of an individual's annual income. Employers and employees pay equal amounts.

The Ford administration says it will propose legislation in the next few weeks to correct this "flaw." Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., chairman of the House-Senate Economic Committee, says Congress will likely go along with the proposed modification, possibly as a first step toward putting Social Security back on its financial feet.

Here is the problem with that 1972 provision:

Congress voted in that year to allow automatic increases in Social Security benefits to accompany increases in consumer prices.

Few argue with the logic of the concept as it relates to persons now receiving Social Security. It allows their benefits to keep pace with rises in the Consumer Price Index, a measure of the cost of living.

But with regard to future retirees, this provision must be looked at in relation to another part of the funding formula — the one determining what his or her initial benefits will be upon retirement.

These benefits are based on a worker's average monthly earnings. The law includes a table showing exactly what the retiree will receive. The table gears the benefit, generally, to a certain percentage of the workers' average lifetime monthly salary. This percentage is not fixed, but is a sliding scale so that persons with lower wages get a higher percentage of their former earnings.

In any event, the inflation that drives up prices drives up wages.

So the future retiree is already compensated for inflation under the formula because his or her higher monthly wages will automatically result in higher initial benefits.

But the 1972 law adds cost-of-living increases to all benefits, both present and future. So persons now on the Social Security rolls are compensated once for inflation and future retirees are compensated twice.

Coffee Break...

SUMMER TRAVEL begins on Memorial Day weekend with thousands of motorists converging on the nation's highways.

All Ohio motorists are urged to take extreme highway safety precautions to help keep Ohio No. 1 in highway safety.

During this bicentennial year, the gift of life is still too precious to be destroyed by careless driving. The Record-Herald therefore stresses the importance of making highway safety a part of all summer vacation travels.

Let's do our share. Drive safely to protect yourself and others from death or serious injury. Keep Ohio No. 1.

Train derailment cleared

RUSHVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Officials expected the twisted wreckage of 36 derailed ConRail freight cars to be removed from the tracks here sometime today, restoring service between Columbus and Charleston, W. Va.

Ruptured tank cars and empty box cars were strewn in a mangled heap following about 35 miles south of Columbus. Crews used bulldozers and special train equipment in an attempt to move the wreckage and restore freight service in the area.

The cars were part of a 89-car train that derailed here Thursday night, dumping poisonous chemicals into a creek and forming a poisonous cloud that forced 1,500 persons to flee their homes for several hours.

Residents in the tiny Fairfield County communities of Rushville, West Rushville and Bremen had returned to their homes by morning on Friday, after the state Environmental Protection Agency determined toxic amounts of several chemicals had dissipated in the air and in the water of an adjacent creek.

A ConRail spokesman said 36 cars of the 88-car freight train derailed at about 6:30 p.m. in a remote area of the county one mile north of West Rushville. Authorities said three tank cars ruptured and several cars tumbled into nearby Rush Creek.

Bystanders said a visible cloud of poisonous vapor formed over the site of the wreck within hours of the derailment, which occurred on a line known as the western branch of ConRail's Columbus division.

The train crew reported seeing a "sun kink"—an expansion in a rail caused by heat—shortly before the derailment. But a spokesman at ConRail's headquarters in Philadelphia said the cause of the accident was being studied by railroad investigators.

WILMINGTON — Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes has appointed three new members to the Southern State College board of trustees.

The new appointees are Elmer N. Reed, of Washington C.H., Blair Dennison, of Hillsboro, and Dwight Oberschlake, of Hamersville. Each of the three new trustees will serve a six-year term ending May 12, 1982.

Reed, 619 Fairway Drive, retired two years ago as an industrial engineer at the Armco Steel Corp. Metal Products Division plant in Washington C.H. He was associated with the Armco Steel Corp. for 35 years. He was president of the Washington C.H. Board of Education for five of his eight years as a member.

Dennison is vice president and general manager of the Gross Feible Co. in Hillsboro. He is a past member of the Great Oaks Joint Vocational School District Board of Education, for which he served as finance chairman. Dennison has been a member of the Hillsboro Board of Education for 16 years.

Oberschlake is a member of the board of directors of the Nationwide Insurance Co. and the board of trustees of the Mutual Investing Co. He was president of Landmark, Inc., of Columbus, and has served on the Brown County Board of Education for 16 years. He is presently chairman of the board of directors of the Southern Hills Vocational School District. Oberschlake owns and operates the Friendly Meadows Golf Course in Hamersville.

In welcoming the new trustees, Dr. Lewis C. Miller, president of Southern State College, said, "We are looking

The new trustees fill vacancies left by Hugh M. Rea, of Washington C.H., Phillip McConn, of West Union, and Ralph Phillips, of Greenfield, whose two-year terms as board members expired May 12. Rea, 132 E. Paint St., was one of the nine original trustees of Southern State College. His retirement marked the end of a two-year term as trustee which began with his appointment in May of 1974.

Rea is a retired elementary coordinator for the Washington C.H. School District.

Wilder sex scandal hinted in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Elizabeth Ray, who says she was on the government payroll as Rep. Wayne Hays' mistress, is telling the FBI she knows of six other women whose federal jobs involved providing sex to congressmen or their constituents, informed sources say.

"She's got documented evidence," a friend of Miss Ray's said late Friday. "She's right. I can't give numbers or specifics... (but) the girl's telling the truth." The friend, who has worked for three congressmen over several years, declined to be identified.

Hays, 65, a Democrat from Ohio, has admitted having a "personal relationship" with the 33-year-old Miss Ray. But he denies she was on his House Administration Committee payroll at $14,000 a year only to provide him with sex. A U.S. grand jury is investigating.

Sources said Miss Ray has been granted immunity from prosecution and is cooperating with federal authorities.

The sources said the six women named by Miss Ray are present and former employees of the government, most of them on staffs of the House of Representatives. The sources said the six have retained attorneys. The women were not named.

One of the sources said "it's a fair assumption" the six have been questioned by the FBI. The agents want to know whether the six were required to provide sex as part of their jobs.

Such a requirement by a congressman could be a violation of federal laws against misusing public funds. "If he hired her to walk his dog, that would be the same thing," one source said. "Whether or not a congressman has a liaison—there's no federal violation there, and we're not interested in that."

Miss Ray's friend, presently working for an executive agency, said she had not provided sex as part of her congressional employment and that "if it ever came to that, I'd have quit."

She said she has not been questioned by the FBI, but, "If I'm called before the grand jury, I'd have something to say." She refused to be specific.

The grand jury has heard more than an hour of testimony over two days from Paul Panzarella, 25, an assistant clerk on the Administration Committee staff. He was quoted by the Washington Post as saying he lives with Hays' niece, Susan Hays.

The jurors also wanted to hear from Evelyn "Nina" Wilson, the administration committee's office manager. But her lawyer objected, and the matter was discussed behind closed doors with a U.S. district judge.

The grand jury was sent home Friday, and the question of whether Miss Wilson must testify apparently was put over until after the Memorial Day weekend.

"The grand jury is interested in whether Miss Ray did any damn thing at all" by way of work for the committee, said a lawyer connected with the case. Sources said the jurors also were trying to determine whether at least one man who did no work was on the congressional payroll.

Hays, in Ohio to dedicate a road and relax at his farm, said he won't resign from the House or quit his committee post, even though some fellow Democrats reportedly want him out.

Sources said some Democrats are trying to force Hays to resign as chairman of the Administration Committee and of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee. The Administration Committee handles housekeeping matters and has authority over assignment of office equipment, staff and other prerequisites.

Majority Leader Thomas O'Neill, D-Mass., said there is concern among Democrats about Hays' position on the campaign committee, which funnels $500,000 in private political contributions to House Democrats for use in re-election campaigns.

The sources said a tentative resolution urging Hays' resignation has been drafted for a meeting June 16 of the House Democratic Caucus.

IT WILL BE ALL OVER SOON — Mark Forsythe prepares to get into the blocks and to take off at the sound of the starter's gun in Friday's Ohio High School Track and Field championships at Columbus. Forsythe runs the first leg for the Washington Senior High School half-mile relay team. Joe Cox, Ed DeWees and Greg Greene are the other Blue Lion team members. The Blue Lion team turned in its fastest time ever, but still failed to qualify for today's finals. Sports editor Phil Lewis has complete details of Friday's preliminaries on page 10.

Liberty parties hit by protests

ATHENS (AP) — The U.S. 6th Fleet, attempting to give its sailors shore leave at Aegean ports in the past week, has been met with a barrage of anti-American protests which the Greek government said hamper its foreign policy objectives.

A diplomatic source said the anti-U.S. protests were "initiated by a well-organized minority ... and overshadows the many successful visits paid in Greece since October 1975."

He said that of the 22 scheduled visits to Greek ports by 6th Fleet vessels since 1975, only three visits were not completed.

The three unsuccessful visits were one to Rhodes earlier in the week by the carrier America which sparked two days of rioting; one at the resort island of Mykonos by the destroyer Yarnell, and a visit by a 6th Fleet vessel to Khania in Crete that was canceled when demonstrators appeared at the port to protest.

Interior Minister Constantine Stephanopoulos told local authorities Friday "not to interfere with national issues dealt with on a parliamentary level."

The municipal councils of Rhodes, Mykonos and Khania had told the captains of the visiting vessels that their crews would not be welcome.

Stephanopoulos said in a written announcement: "As is obvious to all, foreign policy has serious effects on the fate of the country and the public as a whole. Unfortunately, in the past few days certain local authorities have violated these principles through their decisions. In doing so, they violate the operation of the democratic regime, principles of legality and foreign policy objectives."

The announcement added that such acts "encourage hostile acts against a friend and an ally, showing indifference to the damage they may cause the whole network of our international relations."

The anti-American protests apparently stem from the belief that Washington supported the Greek dictatorship that collapsed in 1974 during the Cyprus crisis. A Greek officered coup in Cyprus resulted in the invasion of the Mediterranean island by Turkish troops, who said they had to protect the Turkish Cypriots there. The troops still occupy the northern part of Cyprus. Many Greeks feel the United States failed to discourage the Turkish invasion.

The Greek government has charged that the Panhellenic Socialist party led by Andreas Papandreu, who is strongly anti-American, and the Moscow-line Communist party were behind the disturbances at Rhodes.

Those riots left 80 injured and scores arrested.

Papandreu called the ships' visits "a provocation at a time of known anti-Americanism," and said his party was not connected with the disturbances.

The diplomatic source said American officials were satisfied with the Greek government's regrets over the incidents. He said it was "too early to say" if attempts would be made to give 6th Fleet sailors shore leave at Greek ports again.

Five traffic mishaps probed

According to Fayette County sheriff's deputies, a Friday morning accident on Palmer Road resulted in damage to nine rods of fence.

Deputies reported Rodney L. Garringer, 18, of Jeffersonville, was eastbound on the Palmer Road when he lost control of his car on a curve located just east of Harmony Road at 7 a.m. Friday.

The car went off the right side, came back across the road and traveled into a ditch on the left side, damaging nine rods of fence on the Eugene Geer farm, 5286 Palmer Road. The car was severely damaged, and Garringer was charged with failure to drive on the right half of the roadway.

A car driven by Kenneth C. Taylor,

19, of Bainbridge, was southbound on Ohio 753-S around 1:15 a.m. Saturday, when it went off the right side of the road and struck a fence post. The accident occurred about a mile south of Miami Trace Road, and the car was severely damaged. Taylor was cited with failing to drive on the right half of the roadway.

A guardrail located along Ohio 41 in Union Township, was reportedly struck and moderately damaged by a hitskip vehicle around 7 p.m. Friday, sheriff's deputies said.

Washington C.H. police officers investigated two Friday accidents involving slight damage.

A van driven by Darrel R. Ault, 31, of 327 Earl Ave., and a car driven by Eileen D. Ary, 32, of 903 Broadway St., were both eastbound on Market Street, stopped for a red light at the North Street intersection. Attempting to provide more room for an oncoming semi truck, Ault reportedly backed up and struck the Ary vehicle at 1:12 p.m. Friday. Both cars received slight damage.

Proceeding north on Leesburg Avenue, Zelma M. Butcher, 62, of Bloomingburg, attempted to stop for traffic at the Highland Avenue intersection, and ran off the right side of the road when her brakes reportedly failed. Her car was slightly damaged as it struck a "no parking" sign near the sidewalk.

Yacht freed by Panamanians

WASHINGTON (AP) — An American-owned yacht fired upon and seized by Panamanian troops is back in the Panama Canal after six days of unpublicized captivity that caused a flap involving U.S. sovereignty over the waterway.

The government did not make the incident public. But it drew the attention of the White House, apparently because of the potential political implications of the seizure by Panamanian soldiers.

In an unusual move, it was President Ford's chief spokesman who announced that the yacht, the Sea Wolf, was released Friday after its owner, the General Electric Credit Corp., posted a court bond settling a dispute over a repair bill.

The State Department, basing its contention mainly on statements by the yacht's captain, said the vessel was seized illegally in the American-controlled canal last Sunday by Panamanian national guardsmen executing the order of a local court. The court order had been requested by a U.S.-owned firm. The State Department said the Panamanians claimed the incident occurred outside U.S. territory.

The vessel was hit by gunfire from the Panamanian soldiers, but there were no injuries reported aboard the craft, State Department officials said.

Ford is locked in a tight Republican nomination battle with Ronald Reagan and the canal's future control has become a key issue. Ford's press spokesman, Ron Nessen, telephoned The Associated Press on Friday night to report the ship had been freed.

There had been no government announcement about the yacht's seizure. The first public disclosure came earlier Friday from Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., a prominent Reagan supporter and critic of the administration's move to renegotiate the 1903 treaty that gave the United States sovereignty over the canal.

In a Senate speech, Helms called the State Department "shockingly negligent" in handling what "can properly be described as an act of piracy."

"The U.S. State Department is implicated in this act of piracy by failing to make a public announcement of the act, and by thus appearing to tolerate this trespass upon our sovereignty," he added.

State Department press officer John Ordway replied that "strong protests have been made here and by the embassy in Panama" about the incident. He said the department acted despite a request by the owner of the vessel that the government not involve itself.

Ordway said the soldiers fired warning shots across the yacht's bow, then fired into the superstructure when the vessel did not stop. None of the four crewmen was reported injured and none was imprisoned.

Helms said the gunfire came from a former U.S. gunboat that had been "turned over to the republic of Panama as a gesture of friendship."

A U.S.-owned firm, Helicopters de Panama, had obtained an order from a Panamanian court for the seizure, contending that General Electric Credit owed a $52,000 repair bill.

Assault case, vandalism investigated by officers

A man assaulted for giving a woman money and a window-breaking vandalism incident were two of five reports investigated by Washington C.H. police officers.

Eldon E. Newlan, 104 E. Market St., told police officers that after giving a female subject $10 for medicine, she kicked him in the chest and shoulder. The incident occurred on the stairway at 113½ N. Main Street, around 6:50 p.m. Friday. He was treated and released from Fayette County Memorial Hospital.

Approximately seven windows valued at $35 on the west side of Water's Supply Co., Grace Street, were broken with rocks thrown by vandals sometime Thursday.

A large black purse containing $8 in cash and numerous credit cards was reported stolen from a car belonging to Martha Dresbaugh, 703 Washington Ave., as it was parked in front of the First Baptist Church, 301 E. East St., at 5:56 p.m. Thursday.

A bicycle valued at $18, which belonged to Louise's Second Hand Store, 319 W. Temple St., was reported stolen from the front of the building sometime Wednesday night.

The Fayette County Sheriff's Department received reports of a lawn mower theft and a dog bite Friday.

A lawn mower belonging to Donald Hanawalt, 118 Cook-Yankeetown Road, was reportedly stolen from his unlocked garage sometime between 12 and 3:30 p.m. Friday.

Carmen Uhl, 2, of Wilmington, was reportedly bitten by a dog in the backyard of the Richard Henry residence, 2995 Old Springfield Road, at 10:45 a.m. Friday. She was treated and released from Fayette County Memorial Hospital.

Property tax relief bill has some story sessions

The Ohio Legislature has recessed until June 9, but committees continue to meet on several important bills, according to State Representative Bob McEwen.

The House-Senate conference committee on property tax relief (HB 920) has had some stormy sessions. There remain substantial and persistent differences between the House and Senate versions of House Bill 920, McEwen said.

Both chambers want a system of tax credits to replace tax millage rollback as a way to offset tax increases due to inflation. However, the House made the credits retroactive to 1971, and the Senate wanted to wait until 1978. A compromise makes them effective in 1976.

Another compromise reduces tangible personal property tax levels over a period of years to 35 per cent. This tax primarily affects businesses and is levied on inventories, plants and equipment, and office furnishings. The 35 per cent level of market value would be on par with the uniform 35 per cent real property assessment.

Other than these two changes the committee is using the Senate version of House Bill 920. An important difference remains in how property taxes are to be administered. The House sought to replace the present Board of Tax Appeals (BTA) with a Court of Tax Appeals, while the Senate kept the BTA as an appeals body, but put rule making authority in a new department of Tax Equalization.

"The compromise agreements are shaky and may fall apart. We will know this week. If that happens, it is likely the first conference committee will be dissolved and a new one formed next week," McEwen noted.

Auto, sawdust fires doused

A discarded cigarette butt was the probable cause in one of two fires extinguished by Washington C.H. firemen.

A fire in an auto belonging to Michael L. Young, 1503 N. North St., was extinguished at 1:20 a.m. Saturday by firemen. The car had been parked at 122 S. Fayette Street, and fireman believe the $150 estimated damage was a result of a discarded cigarette butt igniting the automobile.

A sawdust pit fire at 800 Lakeview Avenue was extinguished at 2:53 p.m. Friday by Washington C.H. firemen. The pit is owned by the Coffman Stair Co., 306 Highland Ave., firemen said the fire may have been set intentionally.

Mankind's longer road

Sometimes the long perspective of archaeology offers welcome relief from the relentless present. If a new window has just been opened onto the distant past, all the better for the purpose of forgetting day to day concerns.

This is the case just now - and to a remarkable degree. For the discovery of a very ancient Bronze Age culture at Ban Chiang in northeast Thailand "challenges all the assumptions that have long been held about the development of our modern cultures." The words are those of Dr. Froelich Rainey, director of the University of Pennsylvania's University Museum, whose scientists worked with Thai colleagues in excavating the site.

As a result of their findings it now appears that when the so-called "cradle of civilization" in the Tigris-Euphrates valley was just getting under way about 3000 B.C. the Ban Chiang culture had already been flourishing for hundreds of years, perhaps much longer.

Evidence of use of metal alloys has been traced to 3600 B.C. Scientists believe the culture may have begun developing 1,500 to 2,000 years before that.

There are many other sites in the area. It will be interesting to follow the progress of excavations in the years ahead. Meanwhile, it seems that man has traveled a longer road than had been thought. This may help one to be a bit more philosophical about the vagaries of life these thousands of years later.

Plain old pencils OK for government

WASHINGTON (AP) — If the No. 2 pencil available at the corner drug store is good enough for the American public, it should be good enough for the massive federal bureaucracy, the government has decided.

Pens, pencils and many other items especially made for the government may become relics of the past under a new federal procurement policy.

While the new policy won't result in soldiers reporting for duty in street clothes, it may put an end to such things as pencils and pens stamped "Property of the U.S. Government."

The government's new policy will be to purchase commercial, "off-the-shelf" products, whenever feasible, instead of products designed to meet sometimes complicated federal specifications, the Office of Federal Procurement Policy announced Wednesday.

Daniel S. Wilson, head of a committee that will put the policy into effect, said it should result in significant savings in procurement costs, which are expected to total $66 billion in fiscal 1976.

Using commercially available electronic test equipment, for example, could save up to $80 million annually, the procurement office said.

In addition to reducing the cost of some merchandise, the policy should also cut the time and expense of developing government specifications, permit smaller inventories and pare government warehouse operations, it said in a report.

While government specifications are necessary in some instances to enable the government to carry out a particular function, sometimes they "merely add embellishments to commercial products" that serve little useful purpose, it added.

The government also will use commercial distribution channels, wherever possible, to distribute the goods through its bureaucracy.

However, Wilson indicated it may take years to fully implement the policy. New purchasing procedures must be devised, and such effects as the impact on small business need further study, he said.

Right now it's not even known exactly how much the government buys commercially, he admitted.

But eventually, Wilson said, an ordinary "No. 2" pencil may replace the specially branded government pencil now used in nearly every U.S. government office.

The word "maverick," used to describe independent personalities and stray cattle, comes from the name of Samuel Augustus Maverick, Texas pioneer and politician noted for his "rugged individualism."

State show county production shift

By JOHN P. GRUBER
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

The annual Ohio Agricultural Statistics publication arrived this week from the Ohio Crop Reporting Service. The publication lists crop and livestock production figures for 1975.

1975 crop production statistics showed a slight shift from corn to soybeans. The 1975 acreage of corn for grain was 75,200 down from 84,200 in 1974. Soybean acreage increased to 74,800 in 1975 up from 69,200 in 1974. That production shift however is experiencing a big reversal in 1976.

Average yields for Fayette County were up considerably with corn averaging 89.4 bushel per acre. My earlier guess was that it would be in the 90-95 bushel range. Average Soybean yield in 1975 was 32.3 bushel for the county. Statewide average yields were 92.0 bushels per acre for corn and 32.5 bushels for soybeans.

Wheat acreage harvested last year was up 2,000 acres to 31,200 acres with an average yield of 40.2 bushels per acre. A look around the county would lead one to believe that wheat acreage is up this year, but with the dry weather yield per acre no doubt will be lower.

THE DECLINE in livestock numbers in Fayette County is continuing according to the Crop Reporting Service statistics. Number of cattle and calves on Fayette County farms as of January 1, 1976 dropped to 31,000 head. Year earlier figures were 33,900.

The December 1, 1975 hog and pig inventory showed a 10,000 head decrease in hog numbers in Fayette County with 63,700 hogs and pigs on farms. That ranks Fayette County sixth in hog numbers in Ohio. It has been too many years since that December 1 inventory showed over 100,000 hogs and pigs in Fayette County.

Stock sheep on farms on January 1 were listed at 6,900 head.

CUTWORMS are working on corn fields in several Ohio counties - Fayette County included. Better be checking fields even if insecticides were used at planting time. Some of them are not controlling cutworms. Had a call this week from northern part of the county reporting severe damage, and have heard reports of cutworms damaging several fields in Madison County.

There are several materials that can be applied for cutworm control. These listed in Extension Bulletin 545 "Insect Pests of Field Crops". Keep in mind that materials need to be applied according to label directions to get control.

ALFALFA weevil have been doing some damage in alfalfa fields. At this time of year the most economical control appears to be the mowing machine. Harvest the field now and watch the stubble for damage to the regrowth. In some fields reports are that weevil larvae have spun a cocoon and are in pre-pupal or pupal stage. Stubble spray may not be needed in these fields. Others the larvae may still be working. Check re-growth carefully to determine need for stubble spray program.

JUNE 1 is the deadline for sign up in the 1976 Corn and Soybean Clubs. Entry forms and rules are available at the Extension Office.

A CORN tillage tour has been set for Wednesday afternoon June 9, starting at 1:00 p.m. out Ohio 41, south of Jeffersonville across from Kreiger Equipment Co. The four stops on the tillage tour will be locations of the tillage demonstration plots put out in cooperation with Kreiger Equipment, Richard Davidson, Marvin and Roger Stockwell, and C.A. Bock.

Tillage practices vary from zero till to ridge planting. In all there are 21 plots at the four locations. The plots also include conventional tillage and minimum or reduced tillage systems following corn, soybeans, and or sod.

The purpose of the demonstration plots and the tour is to provide corn producers with side-by-side comparisons of the various tillage systems.

Farm co-ops take grain selling step

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of farmer-owned cooperatives may have taken a key step toward selling grain to the Soviet Union in what could be at least a small breakthrough in a business dominated by so called "international" trading companies, according to grain industry sources.

The sale was said to involve at least one major regional cooperative FARMARCO, Hutchinson, Kan., and possibly several others. No quantity or kind of grain was mentioned by the sources. A spokesman for FARMARCO said late Monday there would be "no statement made at this time."

However, the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, which represents co-ops here, has scheduled a news conference Wednesday "to talk about possible grain sales" to the Soviet Union, a spokesman said. No further details were available from the council or the Agriculture Department.

One source said several co-op representatives, including at least one council official, are in Moscow now. The source said the transaction may involve an "understanding" for future sales rather than a firm, immediate deal. The report of the move by the cooperatives came as a Soviet trade delegation met here Monday with Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Richard E. Bell and other U.S. officials.

The meeting, described as routine, was called in accordance with a long term U.S.-Soviet grain agreement signed last fall. Under it, semi-annual "consultation" meetings are to be held to discuss the grain situation in both countries.

Department officials said the session with the Russians, led by Boris S. Gorbeyev, deputy foreign trade minister, will continue today. No details of Monday's meeting were disclosed.

Warranty changes hurt buyer

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you used merchandise before returning it for a cash refund because it was defective, the Federal Trade Commission is proposing that the manufacturer have the right to charge you for the use.

In a move that could diminish the value of so-called full warranties, the commission today proposed allowing manufacturers to deduct a use charge from any refunds claimed by customers who buy defective products.

Hearings on the proposal will begin in late summer.

The proposal attempts "to balance in an equitable manner the consumer's interest in enforcing his rights under the full warranty interest of the marketplace in preventing any unjust enrichment of a consumer," according to a staff recommendation.

The rule would apply only to full, rather than limited, warranties and only when the customer actually has enjoyed some use of the product before it goes bad. It would not affect cases where the seller decides to replace the product, rather than refund the purchase price.

Under terms of a new federal statute, cash refunds under full warranties must now amount to the full purchase price, regardless of interim use. However, the law entitles the FTC to make the change if it is now proposing.

The change would not be mandatory and manufacturers could continue to offer a full price refund if they choose. But if they wanted, they could deduct from that refund the percentage of actual product use against the "useful life" of the item.

Regiment slates Ohio performance

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The Ninth Virginia Regiment, a group that re-enacts Revolutionary War battles, will perform Saturday and Sunday at George Rogers Clark Park near Springfield.

Ohio Perspective

Jackson campaign still alive

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — His active campaigning has stopped. But Sen. Henry M. "Scoop" Jackson's presidential campaign is still alive, and he will appear on Ohio's June 8 Democratic primary ballot.

Jackson made few appearances in Ohio even before dropping from the active campaign. A fund-raising dinner in Lancaster was scheduled the day he dropped from the race, a victim of the early primaries. Instead of campaigning in Ohio, Jackson was in his native Washington, announcing his withdrawal.

His Ohio campaign manager, Auditor

Thomas E. Ferguson, says that Jackson is still in the race and that he hopes Jackson will return to Ohio before election day.

Jackson, 63, is a veteran politician. He was first elected to Congress in 1940 and he has been a senator from the State of Washington since 1952. He was an unsuccessful presidential candidate in 1972.

On the domestic front, Jackson has proposed a $20 billion public works project to reduce unemployment, "certainly by 1 per cent or more." In a March 30 interview with the New York Times, Jackson said the $20 billion

"would embrace many areas, but specifically schools, hospitals, water quality treatment plants.... I'd have the federal government take over the ownership of the railroad beds and rebuild those railroad beds and lease them back...."

He says the $20 billion would provide "the emergency stimulation that's needed to restore confidence...." That would be followed by a second phase "centered around a national energy mobilization board which, over a period of 15 years, would be the main source of economic growth."

Jackson also has proposed a six-point plan that he says would "save American cities."

The plan includes federal takeover of funding of the welfare system; national health insurance for all citizens; increasing the federal share of aid to education from 7 per cent to one-third; setting a goal in the building industry of 2.6 million new dwelling units per year; providing federal insurance of municipal bonds and implementing a federal program aimed at full employment.

In an April interview, Jackson said it was correct to say that he sees a larger role for the federal government in a Jackson administration.

"I don't buy the argument that because something is big, it's bad," he said. "I think the key here is, how do you handle very large programs in the more humane manner, that is, designed in such a way that there are action-forcing procedures in which the local citizens could be involved."

On taxes, Jackson has proposed a $3.4 billion plan to ease the tax burden on the elderly. It would include a property tax ceiling for the elderly, a hike from $2,760 to $4,800 in the amount that can be earned yearly without losing Social Security benefits, and an income tax credit for the elderly.

In energy policy, Jackson has proposed a National Energy Mobilization Board to use an estimated $2 billion annual income from offshore oil leases to underwrite private efforts to develop other energy sources. He favors continued federal controls on domestic oil and gas prices.

On school busing, Jackson advocates federal legislation creating special three-judge courts to determine the effect busing would have on the quality of education and to demonstrate first that other desegregation efforts would not be effective.

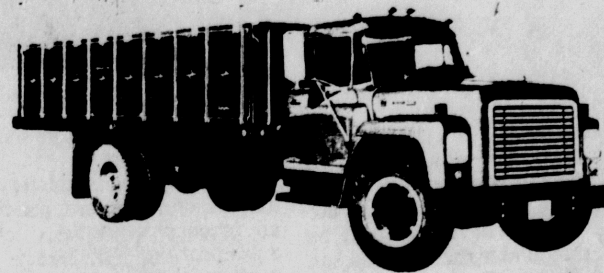

The bill would limit busing orders to remedying specific instances of segregation. In 1972 Jackson supported a constitutional amendment to ban busing.

Jackson says he personally opposes abortion except where the mother's life or health is threatened. He also opposes a constitutional amendment to prohibit abortion but believes the states should have the power to enact legislation regulating abortion.

In foreign affairs, Jackson has been a critic of détente with the Soviet Union.

CLEANABILITY CODE

A cleanability code which will give the consumer information as to the proper cleaning method appropriate for a particular type of fabric - may be found on the tag under the seat cushion - or the furniture salesman should be able to give this information.

The code has been endorsed by such national furniture cleaning organizations as Duraclean International and Service Master and should be called to their attention when professional cleaning is required.

CODE METHOD

W - Use only the foam from a WATER-based cleaning agent. Put 2 tablespoons of a mild dishwashing detergent such as Ivory Liquid in a blender with 1/2 cup of water or mix in a bowl with an egg beater to achieve maximum foam. Apply this dry foam with a sponge or soft bristle brush over a larger area than that which has been soiled to avoid leaving rings. Professional cleaning is recommended.

S - Use a mild, water-free SOLVENT dry cleaning product such as energene, Carbona or Renuzit. Follow the instructions carefully. Keep the room well ventilated. Clean as large an area as possible around the soiled section to avoid leaving rings. Do not use any products containing carbon tetrachloride as it is highly toxic.

WS - EITHER of the above methods can be used.

X - NEITHER of the above methods should be used. A fabric coded X should only be vacuumed or brushed lightly to remove soil. Do not use liquid cleaning agents of any type.

ROUTINE MAINTENANCE

Sensible care of your furniture fabrics will help make your furniture look better and last longer.

Brush or vacuum your upholstery regularly, so dust and soil do not get into the fibers.

When cleaning upholstery fabric with a shampoo or solvent, pre-test it first in an inconspicuous spot, checking for discoloration, shrinkage or other surface change. Use cleaning agents sparingly, with minimum wetting of the fabric. After cleaning, remove residual soaps by wiping the entire surface with a clean cloth dampened with water.

Do not remove zippered cushion covers. Separate cleaning and washing may result in shrinkage, change in color and destruction of the backing. Do, however, reverse your cushions regularly to keep them in better shape and to distribute wear evenly.

VELVET

For cleaning stains on velvet fabrics, try a household solvent first. Only if that is not successful should you use a water-detergent solution, and then with minimum wetting. Most velvets have been rated "X" by manufacturers, meaning neither solvent nor watery spot cleaning have been recommended. It is only in the past year that a special fluorochemical finish has been available on velvet furniture fabrics. The finish has raised the industry rating from "X" to "S" for solvent cleanable.

SOIL REPELLENT FINISH

The label will also tell you if the fabric has a soil repellent finish, such as Zepel or Scotchgard. These finishes repel water and oil-fouled soil, but they don't soil-proof a fabric. The finish simply helps you combat stains more easily. Any soil or spot should be removed as soon as possible.

The wearing quality of an upholstery fabric depends mainly on three things—the tightness of the weave, the fiber content, and the care you give fabric.

KIRKPATRICK FUNERAL HOME

Dear friends,

Memorial Day came into being on May 5, 1868, by order of Gen. John Alexander, Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic. The original purpose was not a military observance, but "to institute a simple act of remembrance, respect, and love". The order advised simply "strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late rebellion".

Sincerely,

Richard Kirkpatrick

Letters from readers of R-H

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

What is happening to our town? Has our city government forgotten who they are supposed to be working for?

When they are running for office, some of our Council members say they are not for a city income tax unless it is voted on by the people. You and I both know the fallacy of that statement. Why is it once people get in office, they are prone to stop 'working' for the people and start 'thinking' for them?

No group of seven people, no matter how sincere they are, can think for 13,000 people. No one thinks alike, I realize that. But certainly the voice of the majority of the people should be heeded.

I would like to suggest to Council that the tax-payers are the most important people in any city. Tax-payers are not dependant on Council, Council is or should be dependant on them. Council is not doing the taxpayers a favor, perse. Instead, the electors did them a favor, or service, when they trusted them enough to elect them to the single most important job in local government today. Why can't Council understand this? We are not out-siders. We are the voice of the city.

I should qualify that by saying we should be the voice of the City. What has happened to our voice? We are not a cold statistic. We are flesh and blood human beings, with feelings and emotions. Emotions which are now running very high. No one likes to be ignored.

Our City Council was voted in to represent us. They are supposed to listen to our needs and try to fill those needs accordingly. By virtue of the fact that we pay their salaries, we certainly deserve more courteous and attentive treatment than we are getting.

Here are a few things which I believe are causing the 'credibility gap' between Council and the tax-payers:

—The increase in sewer rates. How many of you buy a new car or appliance and pay for it for a year, perhaps two, before you use it?

—The imposition of the city income tax. A tax that has been voted down by the people every time it has appeared on the ballot. Another example of how Council listens to the tax-payers. I wonder how many people are not against the city tax, but simply do not want to give Council any more of their money to play around with?

—The turning off of our city street lights, as an economy measure. Really? Or a show of 'power'? If the city is as broke as Council would have us believe, where is the money going to come from for Council's raise?

—Written notice before addressing Council. Council meetings are the only form of communication left between Council and tax-payers. They wouldn't listen to the voice of the people at the polls. I'm not really surprised at this latest tact taken by Council. Are you?

On top of all these things, now we're told our real estate taxes are going to raise nearly 100 per cent. Add this to the increase in the cost of living: utilities, water, phone, home insurance. Where will it stop? I can assure you the working man's pay has not gone up 100 per cent. Neither has the people who are on fixed incomes. They have to pay their own insurance, too.

In the paper lately have been several stories about allegedly fraudulently signed petitions. Can any of you married people honestly say you have never signed you husbands or wives names to anything? It is heart-wrenching to see the city divided over this matter.

We all know what these people have really been guilty of, if they have been guilty of anything.

They dared oppose unpopular legislation. Legislation the majority of you people turned down at the last election.

I wonder if Council would have gone this far if Bill Stolzenburg, staunch Council critic, had not been involved in carrying those petitions?

Personally, I believe it is time for everyone to stand up and exercise their right in freedom of speech. Go to Council meeting, make yourself heard. If they won't listen, they will surely hear you at the polls when it comes time for re-election.

Taxation without representation was a cause for revolution many years ago. It was a rallying cry heard throughout the nation. Perhaps that is what needs to be done now. Not revolution, but a rallying together for a common cause.

Thomas Jefferson said that our liberty can never be safe except in the hands of the people themselves.

More than a difference of opinion is at stake here. Our very liberty is in jeopardy.

Get involved, people. Carry on with the banner of freedom that has been the safeguard and mainstay of the United States of America for nearly two hundred years. You may not have another chance.

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

We, the Central Ohio Chapter-March of Dimes, wish to offer our sincere thanks for the interest and cooperation given Super Walk '76. The coverage given throughout the Super Walk campaign is very much appreciated.

We would also like to take this opportunity to extend thanks to all those persons who contributed to the Super Walk, the many volunteers, merchants and especially those who walked.

It is only through public support like that given to Super Walk '76 that the fight against birth defects can continue. The total of nearly $3,500 has been pledged to the 150 Super Walk entrants will help fund basic and clinical research, medical services, public and professional health education and starter grants that are so vital in this fight.

Thank you once again for the tremendous effort and assistance given to make Super Walk '76 a success.

Horace Greeley said of Cincinnati, Ohio, after a visit in 1850 that he doubted "if there is another spot on earth where food, fuel, cotton, timber, iron, can all be concentrated so cheaply—that is, at so moderate a cost of human labor in producing and bringing them together"

Don't let good friends become strangers. Visit with them as often as you like. By phone. A 10-minute call to any state outside Ohio, except Alaska or Hawaii, costs just $2.57 or less, plus tax. Just dial direct, without operator assistance, after 5 P.M. Prices are lower after 11 P.M. and on weekends. It costs so little to say so much.

$2.57 or less. Why not visit a faraway friend, tonight. By phone.

Dial-direct rates apply on all interstate calls (excluding Alaska) completed from a residence or business phone without operator assistance. They also apply on calls placed with an operator from a residence or business phone where dial-direct facilities are not available. For dial-direct rates to Hawaii, check your operator. Dial-direct rates do not apply to person-to-person, coin, hotel-guest, credit card or collect calls, or to calls charged to another number, because an operator must assist on such calls.

Resets school record

Blue Lion relay team drops from state meet

By PHIL LEWIS
COLUMBUS — The Washington C.H. Blue Lion half-mile relay team knocked three-tenths of a second off their previous best and school record time of 1:33.7 Friday in the preliminaries of the state track meet at Ohio Stadium.
Mark Forsythe, Greg Greene, Ed DeWees and Joe Cox turned in a 1:33.4, but that effort was only good for 14th in the 16-team field.
The best eight times qualified for Saturday's class AA finals. Columbus Mifflin won the Blue Lions' heat in a class AA, record breaking time of 1:28.8. Mifflin is the defending class AA state champion.
Forsythe, DeWees, Cox and Greene went into the meet with the slowest (1:33.9) district qualifying time. They knocked a half second off that mark and topped two teams with faster qualifying times.

Coach Rick Crooks switched his Blue Lion relay team to the "acceleration zone" exchange for the state meet. This gives the baton-receiving runner a better start on exchanges. The Blue Lion team normally took exchanges before the runner could build to his top speed.
"We didn't use it in the district, but a few of the teams did," Crooks said. In state competition, the normal 22-yard exchange area is lengthened to 33 yards.
The Blue Lions worked on the new technique the previous week, but "it was not enough time," anchorman Joe Cox said.
Crooks figured the Blue Lion relay team stood little chance in the meet unless the "acceleration zone" exchange was used.
Crooks was in the stands along with 20,000 track and field fans Friday timing his team's splits. Forsythe, the leadoff man, covered his 220-yard leg in :23.7; DeWeese was clocked in 24.4; Greene had a :23.3; and Cox anchored in 22-seconds flat.

Warren Yamerick of Circleville failed to qualify in the 100-yard dash Friday. He finished seventh in his eight-man heat with a :10.3 clocking. The heat was won in :9.9. Yamerick was also competing in the 220.
Jeff Phillips, the defending class AAA sprint champion who won the district in the 100-yard dash in which Miami Trace's Greg Cobb competed in, won his heat Friday in :9.4, tying the state record held by Bob Lawson of Toledo Libbey since 1972.
Unioto's Bob Matson failed to place in the class AA discus competition. Matson was also competing in the shot put.

HALFWAY THERE — Washington Senior High School sprinter Greg Greene (right) takes an exchange from teammate Ed DeWees in Friday's 69th Boys State Track and Field Championships at Ohio Stadium in Columbus. Mark Forsythe started the half-mile relay team and handed to DeWees. Greene would run 220 yards and then hand to anchorman Joe Cox. The Blue Lion team finished 14th in the competition.

Morgan back; Dodgers lose

AP Sports Writer
Joe Morgan spent a bad week out of the Cincinnati Reds' lineup—and made the Los Angeles Dodgers pay for it.
Back in action despite lingering back spasms, Morgan hurt the Dodgers with a three-run homer as the Reds took a 9-0 decision Friday night in the opener of their big four-game series at Riverfront Stadium.
"You can't sit around on this club, they'll drive you crazy," said Morgan. "In Los Angeles, I let a couple of balls go through my legs. The next day Pete Rose and Tony Perez put a waste basket in front of my locker."
The Dodgers are the team that Morgan loves to hate—and loves to hit as well.
"It's more fun to play the Los Angeles Dodgers," says Cincinnati's Most Valuable Player. "Some games are like a World Series."
Friday night's game was a virtual World Series for rookie Pat Zachry, too. He tamed the Dodgers on five hits.
"I had so much adrenalin I had to calm myself down," said Zachry. "The energy was there. It was just a matter of whether the ability was."

Elsewhere in the National League, the Philadelphia Phillies beat the Montreal Expos 10-3; the St. Louis Cardinals blanked the New York Mets 6-0 and the San Francisco Giants stopped the San Diego Padres 5-0. Two games were rained out—Pittsburgh at Chicago and Houston at Atlanta.
George Foster also slammed a three-run homer as Cincinnati pounded Don Sutton and Mike Marshall for 12 hits. The victory moved the Reds within one game of the Dodgers in the National League West.
Phillies 10, Expos 3
Dave Cash and Mike Schmidt each drove in two runs and Ron Reed pitched five innings of effective relief as Philadelphia beat Montreal for its 14th victory in 17 games. Reed came in with two on in the fifth, retired three batters in a row and went on to earn his third victory by allowing two hits, striking out one and walking none.
Cardinals 6, Mets 0
Willie Crawford's grand slam and a two-run homer by Bake McBride backed a three-hit performance by John Curtis and powered St. Louis over New York. Curtis, who pitched a one-hitter against San Diego in 1974, hurled hitless ball until Dave Kingman stroked a ground single to left leading off the seventh. Two outs later, Roy Staiger lined a single to left but Curtis protected his shutout by getting Mike Phillips to ground to first base.

Giants 5, Padres 0
John Montefusco hurled a three-hitter to pitch San Francisco over San Diego. Two singles by Tito Fuentes and one by Willie Davis were the only 3 hits off the 26-year old San Francisco pitcher, who improved his record to 6-3. Only three Padres reached second base.
A's 11, White Sox 0
Phil Garner, Sal Bando, Billy Williams and Ken McMullen hit home runs to back Stan Bahnsen's six-hit pitching and lead the A's over the White Sox.
Orioles 4, Red Sox 1
Wayne Garland turned in a nine-hitter in a rare start against the Red Sox, getting a run in the opening inning and three more in the fifth.

Green, Maltbie ponder 'monster'

DUBLIN, Ohio (AP) — Hubert Green and Roger Maltbie, the leaders through two rounds of Jack Nicklaus' new creation, the $200,000 Memorial Golf Tournament, have diametrically opposed views on the way to play the murderously-tough Muirfield Village layout.

"Sure I have a strategy," said the chipper Maltbie, the 1975 rookie of the year.

"Play it chicken. Just try to keep it on the short grass."

No way, said Hubert.

"Attack it," he said. "This course is gonna get you sooner or later. You might as well get going after it instead of laying back."

Green's mod approach has produced 13 birdies—five of them in Friday's second round—through the first 36 holes of this event that seems to be destined to become one of golf's classics. His leading 141 total, however, is only three under par.

Maltbie has a more conservative total of nine birdies and seven bogeys. He's just one off the pace at 142 after a second-round 71.

interested in helping will be most welcome. Coffee and refreshments will be served.
Don't forget June 20 which is the date of the fly-in beginning at 8 a.m. when breakfast will be served. Lunch at 11 a.m. There will be no admission charge. Activities will include bomb drop and spot landing contests, model airplane demonstration, sky divers, aerobatic demonstrations, airplane and helicopter rides all day.

Local pilot accomplishments have been Jack Sanders who completed his biennial flight review and Bob Meenach who has received his multi-engine rating - congratulations to both of you. . . Other pilots flying have been Larry Soldan, Lloyd Anderson, Larry Russell, Jack Patton, Don Simonton, Bob Smith, Steve Gilliland, Dock Holder, Fred McNulty, Mike Prickett, Doug Smith, Larry East, Pat Piper, Karen Yeager, Mike Harris, Mike Thompson, Bob Wilson, George Teets, Ron Doucette, Bob Ravenscraft, Jim Roberds, Dave Foster, Mark Merritt and Gary Keller.

One of our local pilots, Eddie Pendergraft, has been temporarily grounded due to a motorcycle accident and after a few painful days in the hospital, he is now recuperating at home and doing well - hope to see you up and around again soon, Eddie. . .

Another friend of aviation and the community, Mr. Wayne Kelley, recently passed away and we here at the airport, pilots and friend alike, wish to express our sympathies to his family. . . due in large part to his efforts, we have a very nice flagpole and flag flying out here. We all appreciate his efforts on our behalf.

Bank slates registration for Golden Buckeye cards

Glenn R. Hemsworth, president of the First National Bank of Washington C.H., today invited all Washington C.H. area residents, age 65 years or older, to register for free Golden Buckeye cards at any of the bank's three local offices.

As a registration center for the state program, the First National Bank will process all applications made at the bank, for both customers and non-customers, Hemsworth said.

"While the program is voluntary," Hemsworth said, "eligible residents with a Golden Buckeye card can take advantage of a growing list of discounts with retailers and special service organizations, including discounts at Ohio's recreational parks."

The First National Bank will also provide copies of "Survey of Status and Needs," which has been designed to plan future services for Ohio's citizens aged 65 and older.

As an affiliate of the BancOhio Corp., the First National Bank noted that all 213 offices of BancOhio affiliates are serving as registration centers for Golden Buckeye cards.

The Golden Buckeye card program is funded through the federal Comprehensive Employment Training Act.

"We remind the customers of the First National Bank to take advantage of the free service charge features on checking accounts designed for senior citizens," Hemsworth said.

Gypsy Moth traps set by state

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A series of traps designed to attract the destructive gypsy moth will be placed throughout the state in an effort to control an agricultural pest.

Harold L. Porter, chief of the state agriculture department's division of plant industry, said 10,000 traps will be placed around campgrounds, parks and trailer courts, where chance of infestation is high. He said the program is an ongoing effort to eliminate infestation of the moth, which can be transported across long distances on trailer hitchers, cars and camping equipment.

The bait for the traps is a synthetic material designed to attract and capture the adult male gypsy moth.
